

Here's what's being said about Laura Webster...

“I love having her play here – especially her enthusiasm for the band and the crowd – I definitely want her back again soon.”

Martin - booking manager at the Barking Spider

“The Shaker Heights native isn't famous, but if she keeps writing songs as pleasant as the five on her debut CD, she just might have to vacate her job as music instructor at Hathaway Brown School and do this nonsense full-time.”

Steve Byrne – Scene Magazine

“Laura has the voice of an angel! Her songs are honest and spoken from the heart.”

Anne Cochran, recording artist with Jim Brickman

“A huge hit - great voice, style and material. The enthusiastic reaction of the audience made it clear where they stood!”

Jim Carr, producer of Saturday Concert in the Park

“ Laura will deliver great music, from folk to pop. She is a consummate professional and a delight to hear. I enjoy every chance I have to work with her.”

James Silver, head producer and owner of “The Reel Thing”
